Criminal

Daniel Travers will accept instructions from solicitors to represent people accused of serious criminal offences. Daniel has prosecuted at the highest level for many years but has decided to specialise in representing defendants.

Daniel is instructed by solicitors in Liverpool and Manchester who know and trust that he will deliver the service and results that they expect for their most important clients. Daniel has established a reputation for being instructed in major and high-profile cases in both cities. Those who instruct Daniel know of his reputation amongst solicitors, judges, and other barristers.

Daniel will advise at every stage of proceedings, including before charge. His advice is robust and untarnished. He is known for his strategic approach to trial preparation. He is a forceful and effective advocate. His cross examination of witnesses and closing speeches can dramatically change the understanding of the evidence.
