Family

Judith practises exclusively in matrimonial finance and is head of the Family Department at Exchange Chambers. She specialises in matrimonial finance, dealing with cases of high value and with complex assets involving forensic issues.

Her areas of expertise include:

- Financial remedy in divorce
- Schedule 1 Children Act 1989
- Civil partnership disputes
- Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 claims
- Professional negligence in family law
- ADR.

Her experience covers almost any area of employment or self-employment or corporate activity of her clients including farming, restaurant groups, manufacturing companies, agencies, the legal profession, the medical profession, architects, property developers etc.

She has established relationships with forensic accountants, tax experts and agricultural experts.

Judith is recognised for her understanding of financial complexities and how to navigate her clients through what are often stressful times. Her instructing solicitors highly commend her for being an advocate who has an in-depth understanding of family law and who will fight hard to ensure the best outcome.

Recommendations

“Judith is extremely experienced but, more than that, she has a way with clients and is not afraid to say it how it is.”

“She can be a real fighter but equally she can be very commercial.”
Chambers and Partners 2025

“When Judith is in court she is a star performer; her oral advocacy is always good. She’ll always find a way to resolve a difference without selling her clients short.”

Chambers and Partners 2024

“Judith Fordham is a long-time campaigner who knows this area of law back to front.”

Chambers and Partners 2023

“She is hugely experienced, well prepared and is willing to go the extra mile. She is a force to be reckoned with in the courtroom.”

“Judith is incredibly approachable and knows how to handle difficult clients very well.”

Chambers and Partners 2022

“She is not fazed by anything and always strives to get to a sensible resolution.”

“She is always well prepared from a technical point of view but equally is fine-tuned to the commercial needs which can dictate the client’s priority in a negotiation.”

Chambers and Partners 2021

“She is a great advocate. She’s brilliant on her feet, she’s knowledgeable, and her instincts are bang on the money.”

“She is completely unflappable.”

Chambers and Partners 2020

“Best known for her excellent negotiation skills. She takes a pragmatic approach and is a robust advocate.”

“Reassuring, user-friendly, persuasive and practical.”

Chambers and Partners 2019

“A formidable advocate, who is certainly someone you would like on your side. She is a tough negotiator with a certain flair. She is great on high-value complicated financial matters.”
